To the glory that was Greece
And the grandeur that was Rome. — Poe.

Grecian history is a poem,
Latin history is a picture,
Modern history a chronicle. — Chateaubriand.

Greece — that point of light in history! — Hegel.

We are all Greeks. Our laws, our literature, our religion, our art, have their roots in Greece. — Shelley.

O Rome! my country! city of the soul! — Byron.

The center of our studies, the goal of our thoughts, the point to which all paths lead and the point from which all paths start again, is to be found in Rome and her abiding power. — Freeman.

I doubt not other lands shall finer mould
The bronze until it breathe, or marble cut
To lineaments that live, or better plead
A cause, or with the rod the astronomy
Of heaven describe and name the rising stars;
But, son of Rome, remember it is thine
To stretch thy empire o'er the human race.
This be thy aim — to dictate terms of peace,
The vanquished spare, but bring the haughty low. — Vergil (Long).

If the Greek was to enlighten the world, if the Roman was to rule the world, if the Teuton was to be the common disciple and emissary of both, it was from the Hebrew that all were to learn the things that belong to another world. — Freeman.

I am not here to teach you history. . . . I am here to teach you how to teach yourselves history. I will give you the scaffolding as well as I can; you must build the house. — Kingsley.

14. What are the principal sources of our knowledge of the Oriental peoples?
15. Why is there an especial interest in Oriental history at the present time?
16. What remains of Oriental civilization have you seen?
17. Prove the truth of this statement: "To the Semites are due the development and extension of political and social institutions throughout this entire region."
18. Commit to memory: The history of these peoples is important because the record and influence of all their achievements have passed on from the east to the west and have entered into our life. Even their errors and mistakes, their sin and its punishment, contain instructive lessons for ourselves. What they achieved of good and abiding worth is in large measure the source of our higher life, our science, our art, our governments, and our religion. — Goodspeed.
19. On an outline map locate the Oriental nations and two important cities of each.
20. By means of a colored map indicate the greatest extent of the Egyptian, Assyrian, and Persian Empires.

The Geography of Hellas

- I. THE MEDITERRANEAN BASIN.
  1. Formation.
  2. Position of Greece.
- II. THE ÆGEAN BASIN.
  1. General character.
  2. Influence upon coast peoples.
- III. GREECE PROPER.
  1. Characteristic features.
    - a.* Shape and size.
    - b.* Surface.
    - c.* Coast and islands.
  2. Natural divisions : distinctive features.
    - a.* Northern Greece.
    - b.* Central Greece.
    - c.* Peloponnesus.
  3. Waterways.

Studies on Leadership of Sparta (404-371 B.C.)

1. Commit to memory: The Athenian Empire had lasted seventy glorious years. Nearly an equal time was to elapse before Hellas fell under Macedonian sway, but the period is one of shame or profitless conflict. It falls into three divisions, — the brutal terrorism of Sparta, the hopeless anarchy of Thebes, and the subtle encroachments of Macedon. In the whole period the city-state is declining, to give way to the system of great monarchies. — Adapted from WEST.
2. In whose hands were the affairs of eastern Greece after the fall of Athens? For what had the subjects of Athens exchanged her “wise, mild rule”?
3. Describe the government set up by Lysander in Athens. How does it correspond to the government of Sparta? Compare it with the rule of the Four Hundred.
4. What brought about the downfall of the Thirty? Quote the words of the patriot Thrasylbulus as he led his followers against them.
5. To which class of Athenian citizens is most honor due in the strife between oligarchs and democrats? Why?
6. How did the Athenians again show their narrowness? What might a more liberal policy have done for Athens?
7. What does Lysander's career show of Greek character and the deterioration of Spartan discipline?
8. How does the Sparta of the fourth century differ from the Sparta of the seventh? Why was she unfit to rule an empire? Was she less unfit than Athens?
9. Why is King Agesilaus called “an ideal Spartan”? What forced him to lead the Greeks against Persia?
10. Why is the retreat of the Ten Thousand so famous? What previous retreat in Greek history is a striking contrast?
11. How did Conon, the Athenian, come to be in Persian service? What had destroyed the walls of Athens? What now restored them?
12. What condition of affairs at home recalled Agesilaus before his work was done?
13. How was Iphicrates able to strike a fatal blow at the military prestige of Sparta?
14. Shall we blame Sparta for making the Treaty of Antalcidas? What else could she have done? What was most shameful about it?
15. How many times had Sparta betrayed the Greeks of Asia into the hands of Persia?
16. What tyrannical acts of Sparta hurried her to her downfall?
17. Where did opposition to Spartan tyranny first show itself?
18. Give an account of the overthrow of the Theban oligarchy.
19. Tell the story of the friendship of Pelopidas and Epaminondas. What were the most excellent traits of character in each of these patriots?
